

A close-up photograph of a healthcare worker wearing blue scrubs and blue nitrile gloves. The worker is holding a syringe and injecting a vaccine into the upper arm of a patient. The patient's skin is dark, and the worker's hands are positioned to stabilize the arm and administer the shot. The background is blurred, showing other people in a clinical setting.

COVID-19 VACCINE RESPONSE

Lean on AMN Healthcare to Assist with Your COVID-19 Vaccine Planning

AMN Healthcare is committed to our healthcare clients and leaders in 2021 and beyond.

With our experience developing Rapid Facility Response stand-up hospitals across the country, Return to Work solutions to help businesses safely bring back their employees during the pandemic, and more – you can trust AMN Healthcare as you navigate the next step in the pandemic – administering COVID-19 vaccines to those in your communities as well as your staff.

As you consider immediate COVID-19 vaccine implications, such as whether to shift existing resources from COVID testing to administering the vaccine, lean on us to aid in your planning. We offer more services than ever before:

- AMN Healthcare staffs RNs, NPs, LPN/LVNs, MAs, Pharmacists, Dentists, Phlebotomists and other Allied health professionals – all of which are fully qualified to administer vaccines depending on the state you are located. New graduates are also a valuable resource to tap into.
- The AMN Open Talent Marketplace is available at no cost to you providing access to a national network of over 900 suppliers. These suppliers submit pre-screened, interested and available candidates, matched to your specific criteria, speeding time to fill.
- AMN Language Services and our 3,000+ medically qualified interpreters are prepared to remove communication barriers between your care providers and patients.
- AMN Healthcare's Vaccine Scheduling Services can be live within 7 days, providing the ability through our technology to quickly build and manage schedules, identify gaps and match resources, and communicate to all staff. We also provide complete schedule management to take the burden off of you.

The team at AMN stands ready to assist in creating a plan to inoculate those you serve, as well as your full-time and contingent staff.
